

Program of the Conference

Europeans' different values and the common goal on climate and environment

For European political families to put together the pursuit of their values with securing the continent from climate and environmental crisis, a closer dialogue with scientific community may be crucial

Friday May, 3, 2024 - Venice, Italy – 10:30 AM - 2:00 PM

Istituto Veneto di Scienze, Lettere ed Arti, Campo Santo Stefano, San Marco 2945

10:30 a.m. Institutional Welcoming

Gilberto Pichetto Fratin, Italian Minister for Environment and Energy Security
Carlo Barbante, Veneto Institute of Science, Literature and Arts

10:45 a.m. Welcome address by the Promoting Committee:

Sissi Knispel de Acosta, European Climate Research Alliance

Silvia Torresan, Italian Society for Climate Science

Jochem Marotzke, Deutsches Klima Konsortium

11:05 a.m. Climate and Biodiversity in Europe, the meaning of scientifically founded goals

Filippo Giorgi, Head of International Center for Theoretical Physics' Earth System Physics Section

Helena Freitas, UNESCO Chair Holder in Biodiversity Safeguard for Sustainable Development

Max Kotz, Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research's Data-based Analysis of Climate Decisions

11:50 a.m. A closer dialogue between climate science and politics:: Antonello Pasini, CNR, LSaV

12 a.m. Different values, common climate and environment goal, a discussion on different tools:

Nicola Procaccini, MEP, co-chair of the group at the European Parliament

Antonio Cenini, European officer, candidate in the elections

Cristina Guarda, Veneto regional councilor, top candidate in the elections

Elena Lizzi, MEP, member of the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development

Nikolaj Villumsen, vice-chair of the group at the European Parliament renew europe.

Benedetto Della Vedova, Italian MP, member of the Foreign Affairs Committee

Annalisa Corrado, PD secretariat, in charge of climate and green economy, 2nd top candidate

13:10 Presentation of a pre-election agreement to be signed on June 5, World Environment Day on the common goal on climate and environment and a closer dialogue with European scientific community

13:15 Q&A for the attending press members